In case Licensee does not agree with the License Terms, Licensee may not install or otherwise use the Software Product.

Software License Terms (V3.0)

1. The subject matter of the License is the Software Product which has been pre-installed or recorded on a data medium, including contents such as illustrations, diagrams, text and sample applications, and all associated documentation.

2. Licensor grants Licensee a nonexclusive, perpetual (except in case of an evaluation License and subject to Section 16) license to use the Software Product as set out in Section 3 (“License”), subject to the restrictions and confidentiality provisions of the License Agreement. No right to grant sublicenses is granted hereunder, except with the prior written consent of Licensor. All copyrights and other intellectual property rights are retained by Licensor and Licensor’s subcontractors.

3. The License includes:
   a) in case of an evaluation License, the trial use of the Software Product for a limited period of time and solely on computers dedicated for such trial use as specified in the evaluation License. For the avoidance of doubt, the Software Product may not be incorporated or otherwise used in any products of Licensee that are intended for sale;
   b) in case of a project License, use of the Software Product on a single computer, on as many computers as Licenses were purchased, or on all computers of Licensee (as specified in the License Agreement), provided in each case that any such computers are dedicated for use with Licensee’s development project specified in the License Agreement;
   c) in case of a runtime License (provided that Licensee has also purchased a project License), the right for Licensee to distribute to its customers the number of its own products (as specified in the License Agreement) enabled with the Software Product for which an equivalent number of valid runtime Licences has been purchased;
   d) creation of one backup copy, provided that Licensee shall reproduce and include the copyright notice on any such copy;
   e) the right to distribute maintenance releases of the Software Product by Licensor to its customers solely to fix bugs of the Software Product originally installed on Licensee’s products (as specified in the License Agreement) previously rightfully distributed by Licensee to its customers in accordance with the License Agreement.

4. The License and the Software Product may not be transferred on to third parties, leased, or sold except with Licensor's express prior written consent.

5. Licensee may not remove copyright notices or any other indications of legal ownership from the Software Product. In case of a runtime License, Licensee shall affix the license sticker provided by Licensor to or inside of each of its own products enabled with the Software Product. Licensee hereby undertakes not to (i) alter or modify the Software Product in any way, (ii) decompile, disassemble or reverse engineer the Software Product, (iii) use it for testing or evaluating its functionalities and/or technology for the purpose of further developing Licensee’s own competing products, or (iv) attempt to do any of such things.

6. Licensee, its end users and its customers shall be solely responsible for the selection of software and hardware for use in connection with the Software Product, for its installation, integration and use, for defining the expected results from its use, and for compliance with data protection requirements in connection with the use of the Software Product. Licensor shall have no obligation or responsibility in relation to any of the aforementioned aspects.

7. Licensor warrants: that the data medium is free of material and manufacturing defects; that when used as agreed the Software Product substantially conforms to the associated documentation; and that it does not contain any defects which render it incapable of use or substantially reduces its usability. The warranty period is 12 months, commencing on the date of delivery. All other warranties and guarantees, whether statutory or implied in law, are excluded and waived by Licensee, including, but not limited to merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose. The foregoing provisions shall not apply and any warranties shall be excluded to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law in case of an evaluation License.

8. Licensor shall only be liable for damage resulting from wilful or gross negligence and only up to the total amount actually paid by Licensee to Licensor under the License Agreement. The foregoing provision shall not apply and any liability of Licensor shall be excluded to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law in case of an evaluation License. Licensor shall not be liable for indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damage, expenses or lost profits, lost savings, loss of data, business interruption or other similar damage resulting from use of the Software Product, or from the fact that the Software product could not be used. Licensor's entire liability with respect to the Software shall be as set forth herein. The regulations of the applicable product liability laws remain unaffected.
9. Licensor may at any time, verify (audit) the use of the Software Product if it has reason to believe that the Software Product is used in violation of the License Agreement. Licensee agrees to provide reasonable assistance to Licensor by making available relevant information and, in case of site visits by Licensor, providing access to relevant systems and employees.

10. Licensee is obliged to treat all corporate, technical and other information of Licensor confidential and to not enable access to or use any information, data, documents or materials in any form (whether written, electronic, graphic, visual, oral or otherwise), including this License Agreement and its provisions, and any copies of the foregoing that are provided by Licensor to Licensee or which otherwise become accessible or known to Licensee (in each case, the "Confidential Information"). Licensee shall use all reasonable endeavours to prevent any access by third parties to such Confidential Information. Confidential Information shall however not include any information which (i) is in the public domain, (ii) subsequently comes into the public domain, except through a disclosure by Licensee under a breach of any undertaking under this Agreement; or (iii) is or becomes available to Licensee from a third party, provided that such third party is not in breach of any confidentiality obligation in relation to such information. This Section 10 shall not prohibit disclosure or use of any information if and to the extent:

- the disclosure or use is required by law or any regulatory body, provided that Licensee shall notify Licensor without undue delay and reasonably cooperate with Licensor in the defence of such request and/or to obtain assurances as to confidentiality from such body;
- the disclosure or use is required for the purpose of any judicial proceedings arising out of the License Agreement or the disclosure is made to a tax authority in connection with the tax affairs of Licensee;
- Licensor has given prior written approval to the disclosure or use.

Any applicable laws for the protection of trade secrets and other confidential information shall remain unaffected.

11. Licensor's General Terms of Delivery and Performance ("GTDP") shall apply to the License and shall form an integral part of the License Agreement. In case of any conflicts between the GTDP and these License Terms, these License Terms shall prevail.

12. If individual provisions of the License Agreement are or become invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall remain unaffected. Invalid provisions shall be replaced by valid provisions whose effect comes closest to the intended commercial purpose of the invalid provisions.

13. The License Agreement shall be governed by the laws of California. The courts of San Diego, California shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any disputes arising out of or in connection with the License Agreement. The rules of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the international Sale of Goods (CISG) shall be excluded.

14. The License Agreement and all documents specifically referenced therein constitute the entire agreement between Licensor and Licensee in connection with the License and supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings, negotiations, and discussions of the parties.

15. Additions or changes to the License Agreement need to be mutually agreed upon and in writing.

16. The License Agreement together with the License may be cancelled by Licensor if any material provisions thereof (including the GTDP) are breached by Licensee.

17. Licensee warrants that, in the use of the Software, it shall comply with all applicable laws, governmental orders, codes and regulations.

18. Any waiver of strict compliance with the License Agreement (including the GTDP) by Licensor must be in writing and signed by Licensor to be valid, and any such waiver shall not constitute a waiver of Licensor's rights under any other provision of the License Agreement or the GTDP.
